4 ★★ Complete the sentences with the correct forms of the verbs in brackets.

Sami ¹*usually wears* (usually/wear) jeans and a T-shirt, but today he ²_____ (go) to a family party so he ³_____ (wear) a smart shirt and trousers.

Jawad ⁴_____ (not often/meet) his cousin because he ⁵_____ (live) in the USA, but this week, he ⁶_____ (stay) in Jordan with Jawad's family.

Is there a perfect family size?

1 □ Issa is a twenty-two year old student. He's celebrating his birthday today with his mum, Hala, his dad, Farid, his older sister Rana, his nephew and niece, Raed and Rola, and his two younger sisters, Heba and Sana. His family love spending time together.

2 □ Asma is an only child. She's with her mum and dad, Malak and Khalil, having a cup of tea on holiday. They get on very well with each other, but can find it hard to be open with each other.

3 □ Life at home is very different for Issa and Asma. Issa's house is always a bit chaotic, but full of joyful laughter. Rana's children often come to visit as they live very close to their grandparents.

4 □ Issa and Asma are engaged to be married. Their wedding is in four months. But what kind of family would they like to have – a big family like Issa's or a small family like Asma's?

5 □ Issa and Asma's homes are very different, but they often visit each other. Issa enjoys the quiet atmosphere at Asma's house and she likes the fact that, at Issa's house, you never know what might happen next. 'It's funny,' says Asma, 'We sometimes talk about our future family. Issa thinks a small family like mine is a great idea, but I sometimes look at his family and think that I'd like to have lots of children one day.'

6 □ 'There is a problem with that plan though,' says Asma. 'I read that to raise a child from birth to the age of twenty-one in the UK, you need about £230,000!' she says. 'So maybe a big family isn't such a good idea. It might be more sensible to stick to having just one or two children.' However, Issa is quick to add, 'you say that, but in a big family like mine, children often share clothes and toys, so the financial side isn't as difficult as you might think. And having plenty of money isn't the most important thing about family anyway. Maybe we didn't go on expensive holidays, but on the other hand, we learnt a lot from each other about sharing and responsibility.' We were always there for each other and could rely on each other.

7 □ So, is there a perfect family size? The answer depends on so many different things that it really isn't possible to say. The most important thing is supporting each other, no matter how big or small your family is.

A SPECIAL OCCASION IN JORDAN

1 In 2016 the FIFA Under-17 Women's World Cup took place in Jordan. The tournament featured 16 teams from around the world, with North Korea defeating Japan in the final to win their second World Cup title. But what made this tournament so special?

2 Well, probably the main reason was that it was the first time a football tournament of its kind was organised in the region. The matches were played across four venues in Amman, Zarqa, Irbid, and Al-Mudawwarah. At each match crowds cheered the players as they tried to beat the other team.

3 For the Jordanian team it was a matter of national pride as it was the first time they would compete and they were also the only nation from the Middle East and North Africa taking part in the competition. The expectations weren't particularly high for the team as no host nation has made it past the first round in the previous four tournaments. Therefore, losing all three games they played didn't come as a big surprise.

4 The tournament mascot was an Arabian oryx, the national animal of Jordan, chosen to represent the strength, gentleness, and athleticism of the players. For everyone involved it was a fantastic experience and one they will never forget. The tournament itself will also be remembered as a celebration of talent and for bringing women's football to a new audience.

ACHIEVING THE IMPOSSIBLE

In 1994, Jason Lewis and Steve Smith set out from London on an incredible round-the-world adventure. Their plan was to use only forms of transport that they could power themselves – kayaks, bicycles, skates, even a pedal boat! They couldn't drive or be passengers in a vehicle – so even hitchhiking wasn't allowed!

They travelled across the English Channel to France in a pedal boat and then cycled across France to Portugal. That's where things began to get difficult. Most people use pedal boats to have fun with at the beach, but Jason and Steve wanted to use one to cross the Atlantic Ocean! The crossing took 111 days and when they finally arrived in Miami, they were hungry and exhausted. Not surprisingly, they were also tired of each other's company. So they decided to cross the USA separately. Steve cycled and Jason skated. While he was skating to a town called Pueblo, a car hit him. It was more than three months before he was fit enough to continue his journey.

Steve and Jason reunited in California, and travelled to Hawaii. In Hawaii, Steve decided to leave the expedition, but Jason was determined to complete the journey and carried on solo. In fact, he wasn't alone for long. In Australia, teachers and their teenage students cycled with Jason for a while and later on he met other friendly, hospitable people who wanted to share his adventures. After he passed through Egypt, Jason spent the next few weeks travelling through Jordan and Syria and finally entered Europe in early August. When he reached Belgium, his old pedal boat was waiting for him for the final sea crossing back to the UK. After all the problems, adventures and changes to his original plans, Jason finally arrived back in the UK after thirteen years, two months and twenty-four days!

LESSON 7B WRITING | A blog post

AN AMAZING PLACE

Mention where you went.

I recently visited Vietnam with my parents. We spent a week in a town called Sapa. It's a tourist centre in the north of the country.

Say how you got there and describe the journey.

We flew to Hanoi. It took twelve hours but the journey was very comfortable. We flew with Vietnam Airlines so we had our first taste of Vietnamese food on the plane. It was delicious.

Talk about how you spent your time.

On the first day, we went sightseeing in Hanoi and then caught a night train to Sapa. It was an amazing journey with very scenic views. We booked a room at a local family's home and they were waiting for us at the station and drove us to their house. The next day, we went for a walk in the rice fields. It was a beautiful place. On the third day, we went to a market and tried different kinds of street food. Every day was special and I had a wonderful time. After Sapa, we had a week on Cat Ba Island. It was spectacular.

Sum up your overall experience.

Vietnam made a really positive impression on me. The people were all incredibly friendly and welcoming. Overall, it was a wonderful trip and I'd love to go back one day.

2 Where do supermarkets place the most important items that most people need?

3 What emotion do customers often feel when they see a special offer?

4 According to the article, why are supermarket trolleys very big?

5 Which product do customers sometimes buy while waiting at the checkout?

6 Which two tips for spending less in the supermarket does the author give?

SUPERMARKET SHOPPING

TREAT OR TRICK?

Very few people think about the layout of their supermarket or the offers available ... but maybe they should. Why? Because everything is carefully designed to encourage you to buy things you don't really need.

1 In many supermarkets, the main entrance leads directly into the fruit and vegetable section. There is a reason for this. Psychologists say that when we start by buying food which is good for us, we are more likely to feel better about ourselves. That's why, later on, we often take a packet of biscuits as a reward for our earlier good behaviour.

2 Supermarket managers want customers to look at as many products as possible. That's why key products such as dairy, bread and meat are right at the back of the store, so customers have to walk past lots of other different food items before they find the ones they actually need.

3 When we see a sign offering a discount, we often take the product without thinking. It isn't unusual to see a sign saying: '2 packets only 2 JOD!' and, in our excitement, we grab the product without noticing that the price for one packet is actually only 1 JOD!

4 How else do supermarkets make us spend more? There are quite a few tricks. The smell of fresh bread can make us more hungry and make the shop seem more attractive. Large supermarket trolleys make us think that we only have a few items and that we should buy more!

5 Finally, we reach the checkout. Perhaps we are having a bad day and don't feel so good. And while we're waiting in that queue, what do we see? Chocolate bars. Without thinking, we pick one up and drop it into the trolley. More money spent!

6 How can we avoid these clever tricks? Make a shopping list – then you will only buy the things you need. Looking at your phone while you are waiting at the checkout means you might not even notice the chocolate bars all around you!

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to ¹*complain / respond* about an item which I bought from you online.

On 2 December this year, I purchased an HD13 camera from your website and paid an extra 5 JOD for 'next-day delivery'. ²*Suddenly / Unfortunately*, the delivery van did not arrive the next day and they phoned to say that it would come on the 9th. When I arrived at the office, I waited over an hour before they found the camera. To make ⁴*matters / service* worse, the camera wasn't the model I ordered – it was an H13X, which is a cheaper model. This is ⁵*typical / unacceptable*, but the delivery company told me they couldn't return the product to you and that I should arrange to send the camera myself.

I ⁶*feel / mean* that you should find a delivery company which can deliver products on the date they promise and which delivers the correct items.

I believe you should replace the camera you sent me with the correct one which I ordered and also apologise for the inconvenience you caused. I look ⁷*ahead / forward* to your reply.

JORDANIAN CUISINE

One of the most famous dishes in Jordan is mansaf. It is often considered the national dish. This meal consists of tender lamb cooked in a yogurt sauce, served with rice with toasted almonds and pine nuts on top. Mansaf is typically enjoyed on special occasions and is a symbol of hospitality and generosity.

Another popular Jordanian dish is maqluba, which translates to 'upside-down' in Arabic. This dish is made by layering rice, vegetables, and meat in a pot, then turning it upside down before serving it. Maqluba has a beautiful mosaic of colours and flavours. Maqluba is a comforting and delicious meal that is enjoyed by families across Jordan.

For a quick and satisfying snack, Jordanians often treat themselves to falafel. These are crispy chickpea patties flavoured with herbs and spices. These tasty treats are typically served in pitta bread with fresh vegetables and tahini sauce, making them a popular street food option.

Jordan is also known for its delicious sweets, with one of the most famous being knafeh. This dessert has layers of shredded filo pastry stuffed with sweet cheese and covered in a fragrant sugar syrup. On top there are crushed pistachios for added crunch, knafeh will satisfy any sweet tooth.

Finally, no discussion of Jordanian cuisine would be complete without mentioning tea. Jordanians are passionate about their tea, which is typically served strong and sweet. It is customary to enjoy a cup of tea with friends and family throughout the day, making it a central part of Jordanian culture.
